Minister of Interior Delivers Address Before Hand-Picked Audience in Separate School Hall

DOUBLE SET OF SENTRIES GUARDED THE DOORS

SPEAKER DECLARIES HIS CONSCIENCE IS CLEAR, BUT FAILS TO TELL WHERE MONEY CAME FROM, OR WHAT HE DID WITH IT—PROPHECIES GENERAL ELECTION AND URGES HIS FOLLOWERS TO ORGANIZE IF THEY WISH TO AVOID DEFEAT.

With the door guarded by sentries, backed by blue-coated policemen and only the hand-picked admitted, in the Separate school hall on Friday evening Frank Oliver held his first meeting in Edmonton since the memorable Thursday night of June 1.

In his own paper, the Bulletin, on Friday morning the announcement was made that the meeting was to be a public meeting, but in the afternoon editions of all the papers this was corrected on the authority of George B. O'Connor, president of the Liberal party, who stated that it was open to members of the Old association only.

When the time came, however, many who had not taken the oath of allegiance to Frank Oliver presented themselves, but only to find the door barred against all who had not the O. K. of the president.

While the sets of sentries were posted, one of the plain citizens who had been invited to the hall stood George B. O'Connor and P. T. Butchart, who had been invited to see to who should be admitted was the court of last appeal, and whose verdict was backed by the presence of the minister of the interior.

Many liberals of long standing in the community who had not taken the Oliverian oath were turned away, among others being P. E. Lessard, M.P.P., for Parkland and a one-time minister of the Alberta government, S. W. E. Candy, an active member of the Liberal party, and an active participant in the last provincial election in the Oliverian interest, and also the first president of the Irish association and also an executive officer of the Young Liberal club, G. H. May, of the Byron May company, member of the Young Liberal executive, and candidate for alderman in the last municipal election, and many others who had been prominent in the public affairs of the city. One of the most amazing scenes at the door was when Tom Carney, the village blacksmith of Edmonton in the early days and a liberal who has worked for Frank Oliver since the days when he was defeated by Dr. Wilson, was turned away with the intimation that they did not know him at all, and that he was not welcome. One of the plain citizens and an Oliver supporter for a quarter of a century was refused admission to the Oliver meeting by George B. O'Connor, there came very close to being a scene and the astonishment of "Bobby" May when he discovered that he was not wanted would have made a fortune for a moving picture man.

All told, there were many more turned away than were admitted, but at that there were in the hall when the proceedings commenced not less than 200.

The Capital reporter, of course, got in, although the sentries at the door were not so calm, quiet and serene, only one mention of the bank account and the intrigue being made, and not by Mr. Oliver but by his campaign manager, Mr. O'Connor, who promised to spend all his money to see Mr. Oliver returned for Edmonton.

Mr. Oliver's speech was in detail form, was to the effect that there was a general election coming soon and that therefore they should organize. That is practically all there was to the meeting. The reciprocity issue was not discussed by Mr. Oliver. Neither were the charges which have been made against him regarding the questionable items of his bank account. In this connection he did not fail to mention that his conscience was clear and that the interests which were working against him could not injure him in the way that they think they can.

In the vicinity of Morinville almost eight townships are taken up by the numerous applicants who at first will not take the small plots of land they claim with the American-Canadian Oil Co's operations are crowded with success. It will not be until November, however, that the great majority of the claims will be staked out. The great majority of the claims are in the north country where the result of the season's hunting operations by the Fort McKay Oil and Asphalte Co., Fort McMurray, and the North Saskatchewan Exploration Co., Ft. A very large number of applications for renewal of oil privileges were received during the month of June, the majority of which are in the Morinville district, the north country where the result of the season's hunting operations by the Fort McKay Oil and Asphalte Co., Fort McMurray, and the North Saskatchewan Exploration Co., Ft. RAFTING ON FRASER RIVER OPENS UP NEW AVENUE TO INTERIOR B.C.—WAGON ROAD WITHIN 12 MILES OF CACHE—EDMONTONIANS MAKE JOURNEY.

Fort George, B. C., June 10. The river was so shallow near Fort George by the constriction of the eastern escarpment that the first portages are just commencing to become apparent.

Boats down the river is now general, and the east route into the heart of Interior, B. C., is now established.

Some parties have arrived down the river, having last fortnight from the east, having taken the railroad to the end of construction, then tramped out to the head of the river and came to Fort George by raft and canoe. One party of five from Edmonton started a crude raft at Telkwa, Juan Garcia and brought with them 1000 pounds of baggage and personal

Arbitration Board's Decision Favors Electrical Workers

At that remain now to complete the agreement between the city and brothel, or hood of Electrical Workers over the question of wages and other labor conditions. The city, the manager, Mr. Armstrong and the commissioners, have agreed to abide by the decision of the arbitration board, which was composed of Judges Taylor of the district court, Superintendent of the Municipal Light Department, Mr. William Symons representing the electrical workers, to effect at once, and continues to May 1, 1913.

The board's finding as a whole sustain the contention of the electrical workers, giving them a substantial increase in wages. The new agreement conforms to a great extent to the scale of wages already paid by the provincial government and the city of Edmonton.

The decision of the arbitration board, which was composed of Judges Taylor of the district court, Superintendent of the Municipal Light Department, Mr. William Symons representing the electrical workers, is as follows:

The city does not object to any employees of the telephone department be-

FULL REPORTS FROM ALL THE COMMITTEES

Full reports from all the committees, from the Secretary, Treasurer and from Superintendent McRae are contained in the annual report of the board of governors, which contains reports of the various schools and pictures of the board members and the school buildings.

A favorable development during the year is shown by the report of each of the various committees. The chairman in his report to the board speaks of the new buildings that have been erected to accommodate the rapidly growing school system. He also reports the school of larger capacity for the school board with new provision for the departments of the work here to be done.

The report shows that the percentage of total revenue represented in the government account is 13.35.

No Wonder He Had
Policemen on the Door

Any intimation, says the Hon. Frank Oliver, that he as minister of the interior, had lost the confidence of his constituents, would destroy his usefulness at Ottawa.

This statement, made behind closed doors, the entrances guarded by sentries and policemen, and only those chosen few admitted who had promised to support the minister no matter what conclusion the party as a whole might come to, sounds like a travesty on representative government.

If it was not because he felt sure that he had already lost the support and confidence of his constituents that he talked behind closed doors, why was it?

Was it not because he thought that someone would ask him where the money came from, what he did with it, and what his part of the intrigue to wreck the Rutherford government that he hand-picked two hundred out of a population of 40,000 and undertook to dignify this gathering of foresworn servitors by the name of "a meeting?"

What right has a minister or a member to count himself a representative who in the electors that he will not meet them except they first renounce all freedom of political action and pledge their support for him regardless and notwithstanding?

Surely it is a sorry caricature of the Honorable Frank of other days, this man who calls liar from the platform and then flees the town, who meets the accusation that he has possession of money of doubtful origin with the defiance that they cannot show where he got it who steals stealthily into his own home and holds his meetings behind closed doors, who requisitions the police to protect him against the investigation of his constituents and who asks that he be not openly flung to the expression of hostility toward him should reflect injury on Edmonton.

Time was, and not so long ago, when Frank Oliver's claim to greatness was that he was the honest member of the government, the one man who could withstand the wiles, the temptations and the brutalizing influences of the corporation spoliars, the hardy westerner untainted by the love of luxury and unsullied by the greed for gain. It was on this representation that the electors chose him as their representative.

And now, grown suddenly wealthy by means which he refuses to explain, he returns to Edmonton, the bravado and the swagger gone, and in secret conclave tells those whom he thinks his friends, that they must rally to his support or he is undone.

Not one word about the money. Not a suggestion of where it came from or where it went to. Not a syllable in answer to the charge that he led an intrigue to wreck a liberal government in the province of Alberta.

But instead, a warning that they, his foresworn supporters, must beware of traitors in their ranks.

Oliver talking of traitors. Oliver who loosed the powers of the corporation Mafia on the men who made him great, whose mercenary performances would cause Arnold to blush for shame and Judas to think himself a selling-plater, who has violated every pledge, given and implied, to protect his country from the ruthless hand of the spoiler, and who has dipped his own arms elbow-deep in the plunder.

No wonder he had policemen on the door.

Tete to Lay Claim to Edmonton's New Empire

With the wagon road on the Grand Trunk Pacific now only a very few miles from Tete Juan Cache, a new empire of trade is opening up for Edmonton in the interior of British Columbia. Already it is easier to reach Fort George from this city than from Vancouver, and with each succeeding day Edmonton's advantage over the coast distributing centre will become greater.

This new domain of trade, with its enormous possibilities, falls into Edmonton's hands without effort and without price. It is bound to become one of the most valuable of her tributary territories. For years past the old Cariboo road has been alive with settlers, lumbermen, prospectors and miners making for the new Interior northland, and with the advent of the railway their number is due to be greatly multiplied.

On the Coast end, Vancouverites are moving heaven and earth to get a road started into the Fort George country and on through to the Upper Peace River country. Richard McBride has promised to give the matter his immediate attention and that Griffiths, one of the greatest builders in the world is mentioned as likely to undertake the project.

The time for Edmonton to get herself established in the new territory is now.

Farmers Victims
Of the Coal Controversy

With the coal strike settled, Southern Alberta faces a new problem in which the people who are likely to be injured had no part in creating.

The crop this year in Southern Alberta is going to be large enough to tax the railways to capacity under ordinary circumstances and when it is considered that in the harvest months the coal miners must get on the rail the coal which should have been shipped during the months that the mines have been closed down by the strike, the chances of a blockade this year look excellent.

There are not granaries in the country to store one tenth of the crop, and unless the wheat can be shipped from the machine there is a grave chance that a great deal of it may spoil.

The farmers are unfortunate in being the victims of a controversy which they did not create and could not settle, but they will feel no great sympathy for the operators who have kept their mines closed down since last March and who finally offer terms which would undoubtedly have been accepted as readily at the commencement of the strike as now.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Those forty thousand harvest hands which will be required to reap the harvest should certainly have been included in the western census. They would entitle the west to another member.

MANY PROMINENT LIBERALS
ARE REFUSED ADMISSION

George O'Connor acted as chairman of the meeting. He explained the purpose of the new association of Oliver supporters who have been formed and announced that its membership had reached a number of close to 500, Mr. Oliver then spoke.

Oliver's Address.

The explanation of the minister of the interior in his explanation of the meeting was that in the event of a general election the liberal party in Edmonton must know exactly where it stands, and who it can depend on to help it. The new association of Oliver supporters was composed of men whose stamp of support of the liberal representative in the city is assured.

He told his audience that a general election before it was held was practically inevitable. He believed that the leader of the opposition in his address in Edmonton had made it very plain that the conservative party had no policy that will permit it necessary for the government to go to the country. During the past six months they had been holding up the business of parliament and preventing supplies from being voted for only five months now until September 1. He told the electors that the government do not want a government in power that will permit its work to be held up in this way and so the only thing to do is appeal to the electors to do it to him.

The main part of his address was an exhortation to his followers to earn an efficient organization for the coming election.

He told them that the large buying豪華 will make it possible for unscrupulous methods to be carried into effect at the polls and urged his hearers to be on the alert for such methods.

At the same time, however, they were to take strict precautions to prevent the use of questionable methods by their opponents.

Mr. Oliver referred to the fact that things had appeared in certain sections of the press of the country calculated to discredit him as the representative of the Edmonton and the interior commons.

He said that he did not take things to himself personally at all, but he wanted to point out to his hearers that every one of these nasty insinuations was a lie and a falsehood, but to the end of Edmonton.

It was not reasonable to suppose, he said, that in event of his own defeat Edmonton would not get another called election. He had been asked to do that responsible position and probably through any special ability he might possess, but on account to the fact that he had been elected to represent the people of Edmonton, he would not do so.

He stated that he did not want that what had happened during the past four months had affected him in any way.

He could not live with the knowledge that he had been used and return him to the interior again for the forthcoming election. So long as he had a substantial majority, his strength for Edmonton would be immediately available for the use of the government.

He stated that he was in a position to do much that would materially benefit this section of the country.

He wanted to do the people of Edmonton to pay off their own interests and return him to the interior again for the forthcoming election. So long as he had a substantial majority, his strength for Edmonton would be immediately available for the use of the government.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD" AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE, JULY 6, 8.

Deiman, Thompson's "The Old Homestead" has been played continually for a longer period than any other play ever given in this country. Some 100,000 have been paid for, many as three companies. It has been seen in every city of any consequence in this country and has been played in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other cities. Plays of great merit usually last for five or six seasons and then go into the stock houses, for occasional repetition. The one that has been seen is Mr. Thompson's play, and it has been on the go now many years, this being the twenty-fifth season. The Old Homestead is the only play that has been played during the first two years of its existence, it having remained in and about Boston for that period after its original production at the Boston Theatre in April, 1886. It was not until after its three years' run at the Academy of Music in New York City, that it entered our country. The first time it was seen in the travelling season of the company was out of extraordinary length, they remaining out continuously, for about six weeks. The company then returned and travelled 35,000 miles in one and a half times the circumference of the globe. All parts of the country were touched. The play was popular because still heavier as it came new, apace, and Mr. Thompson's cast had three companies before it was paid off. It would not be out of the impossible to give another like an accurate distance of the territory over which the home of Joshua Whitman, Grace Church and the like, was carried back and forth during the first half of their existence, but it is safe to say 100,000 miles.

Prudential, Mutual, Happy Jack, Hickory Ann, Eb. Ganzey and all the other familiar characters in "The Old Homestead," for some years past, have been seen in the court this morning.

It is the play that has been seen in this country alone and the movement of the various companies presenting it have been remarkable. In nearly every town there being but few, if any, towns of any consequence in the United States that have not been introduced to "The Old Homestead."

Paul Rapatz, a Galician who was convicted of the theft of a towel from a prominent hotel, was fined $10 and costs $5.00.

Four drunks were assessed the usual damages, $1 and costs, and a fifth will come on trial this afternoon.

The brigade of Central firemen turned out on the alarm this afternoon to find a fire. It was discovered that the ringing in of the alarm was due to a short circuit in the line on Third street.

The old company presenting the play, as Mr. Deiman, Thompson was not content unless the play was presented under the immediate supervision of and in charge of the company.

"The Old Homestead" comes to the Empire Theatre, July 6, 8, and 10.

Lyceum Theatre

This is the last week of Sherman and Cleveland's Merrymakers at the Lyceum. Manager Cleveland states he has two good shows for this week, the first one to be presented is "The Underaker," with lots of good plot and well-acted scenes, special feature of this is the most unusual comedy of which there are seven and some good dialogue by well-trained chorus.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

Receipts from the Customs department for time in Edmonton indicate a slight falling off as compared with the month of May. During the month just closed, 1,776 packages were sent, the value of which is the most important of which there were seven and some good dialogue by well-trained chorus.

May Hold the Postponed Games for Provincial Championships
During the Exhibition in Aug.

All the sports in Northern Alberta of the meet have not the authority to postpone the games as much as the executive committee did. They are up in the grounds, decided to take it in their own hands and declared the games postponed until the committee decided they should be held. All executive committee members are of the same mind. The carpenters crews and trips to Wabamann did not take place. Stoney Plain and Edson did not have their games.

There seems to have been somewhat of a mix-up in the provincial championship sports, and considerable dissatisfaction was felt by many that the committee had been so busy on Friday and postponed them to a later date. Although the officials in charge

Brandon, July 3.—In the first half of the Dominion Day double header, Bugs Schaefer distinguished himself by squeezing home with the tally that gave the locals the only victory they had had for some time. Bugs' feat was accomplished on the eighth, when the score was one and the home team had a double by Hyatt and Wiegert. The game was a nail-biter, and while the home twirler was touched oftener than the enemy's pugger, Wiegert was sturdier than his opponent, who did not score a run. The game was a tight exhibition on the field, with only two errors charged against the visitors. The crowd immensely enjoyed the game, which was waged in ideal weather.

Score by Innings: Brandon 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 x-2 Winnipeg 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 x-2 Summary: Two base hits, Schaefer; sacrifice hit; Holmes; base on balls, by Hyatt; 4, by Wiegert; 9; struck out by Hyatt; 1. Walks: Whistler; 2; bases, Medrev; Schaefer; 1; Kossuth; Glass; 2; double plays, Kirkham, Colling, Gledhill; 1; passed balls, Edmonds; unearned; Morris.

Second Game

Brandon copped the first combat of the day's double header, when Guster captured the win, and the score went to 10 when Buch-Holmes was on second. For six innings Glass held the residents without a hit, while the Brandonites scored 10 runs off of Borkies, but the homewalk kept the bingles well scattered. The Maroons behind Glass did not give him the support he should have had, and the result was the same, the result that two batters were added to the locals' total. The visitors scored in the second of these errors and Wiegert, who had been the best pitcher in the sixth, in the attack for their other run. A pass, two stolen bases and Kistner's error, gave the Brandonites a 10-1 lead. The game ended on two costly errors in the fourth. They added one in the seventh on a single, a sacrifice and Guster's double. The homewalk was the result of an error and two safeties.

DIFFICULTIES AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 30.—President D. L. Taylor, of the Winnipeg Masonic Taylor, the Winnipeg Masonic Taylor, Pitcher Ray and First Baseman White, Taylor is adverse to carrying out this plan, as he is a member of the W.M.C. and the W.M.C. has no interest in this side of the water. Wiegert has been floating only about five years, while Moran's record dates back considerably. The W.M.C. has no interest in America, as British had done first for some years on the other side, and before Wiegert made his first appearance in the ring Moran had whopped Dizier Stanley and other top-notchers, Moran was then dethroned by the ban class.
